Optical fibre makers impacted by Chinese anti-dumping duty

MANJIV KUMAR
New Delhi, August 13

Indian companies like ITC and Tejas Networks that are manufacturing optical fibre cables are impacted by a 25 per cent anti-dumping duty imposed by China on optical fibre cables. The move is expected to impact the Indian market for optical fibre cables. The Chinese government on Thursday imposed a 25 per cent anti-dumping duty on Indian manufacturers of single-mode optical fibre for the first time. The duty ranges from 74 per cent to 206 per cent.

China manufactures 50 per cent of the global supply of optical fibre, which has come down to 500 million km annually due to slowdown in demand because of the pandemic. China Telecom is the largest owner of the product, accounting for 25-30 per cent of global fibre consumption. This has given a boost to Chinese telecom gear makers like Huawei, which has been allowed to participate in the 5G auction. Yet, India's exports of optical fibre to China have been negligible because they have not been able to make sales due to the high import duties.

India's exports have been able to expand more than 100,000 km to China in the past five years. However, the move comes at a time when the government has been trying to strengthen ties with China and India. The government has been trying to build a strong relationship with China, which includes the proposed 100 km of fibre optic cable between India and China. A M Naik wants India Inc to take advantage of anti-China mood

Amid the ongoing Covid-19 pandemic and the unexpected challenges being faced by the country at its northern borders, A M Naik, group chairman at L&T on Thursday said it is time to strengthen the anti-China measures with India and a long-term strategy with a five-year plan for implementation needs to be chalked out for the same.

At the 7th AGM of L&T, the company's first virtual event, Naik told shareholders that the current scenario is an opportune time for the government and industry to act in unison. A strong anti-China sentiment, not just in the country, but across globe can be a possible game changer for the entire industry, he said. To leverage these opportunities, India needs to raise beyond 100-crore investments, Naik added. While the country continues to battle the Covid-19 pandemic, L&T is hopeful that the second half of FY22 will again bring economic activity. The National Infrastructure Pipeline project initiated by the government is likely to lead to increased spending in infrastructure, and L&T is poised to capitalise on these opportunities, he said.

Naik also said that the company is looking at various opportunities in the infrastructure space, which will not be affected by the Chinese move. The plant has an installed capacity of 14 million km and is running at 50 per cent. It exports to China and other countries.
