Farrukhabad admin to add SP leader's name to list of 'land mafia'

Urmila Rajput acquired a 3.65-acre Shia Waqf Board land in 2004 using fake documents: Inquiry panel

MANISH SAHU
LUCKNOW, AUGUST 31

THE FARRUKHABAD district administration has decided to include senior Samajwadi Party leader Urmila Rajput's name in the "land mafia" list after an inquiry found her guilty of grabbing a Shia Waqf Board land by using "fake documents".

In its inquiry, the administration claimed to have found that Rajput, a two-time MLA, had illegally acquired the 3.65-acre land in 2004.

With the action, the future of an eight-year-old law college built on the land hangs in the air. Rajput said she was also building a women's college there.

The 'Anti-bhoo Mafia' (anti-land mafia) portal was set up by Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath in 2017 to identify people and companies that illegally acquire land.

District Magistrate Manvendra Singh has ordered that a case be lodged against her under relevant charges.

He said the land would be taken back from Rajput after certain court proceedings were completed.

He said the role of government officials and others would also be probed. Sources said many officials — posted at the time when the land changes were made — had retired.

Rajput claimed that she was being harassed and targeted by the state government because of political differences.

In July this year, a local resident of Farrukhabad, Nahar Singh

"The decision of the administration is wrong because a tribunal court in Lucknow is hearing the matter... I built a law college on the land and have been running it for the last eight years. I want to know why people were silent till now."

— URMILA RAJPUT

Rajput filed a complaint with the district administration stating that she had fraudulently grabbed the Waqf Board land in Noorpur village. The DM directed sub-divisional magistrate of Sadar Anil Kumar to conduct an inquiry.

The inquiry found that the land was earlier under possession of one Mutawi, who was working as its caretaker. It was later registered in the name of Nawab Syed Saifur Ali in the revenue record, said Anil Kumar. Through unregistered will, the land was transferred to Azadar Zaidi, a local resident, in 1991. A day before Zaidi's death in 2004, the land was transferred to the SP leader through his will, said Anil Kumar.

"The will, which declared the transfer of land to Urmila Rajput, was unregistered," said Anil Kumar.

Rajput said the land transfer was documented in the revenue records. "In his will, Azadar Zaidi gave the land to me. We had family relations with him, and I used to help him regularly. I built a law college on the land and have been running it for the last eight years. Construction for a women's college building is underway. I want to know why people were silent till now. After I invested money in the land, people started questioning me," said Rajput, who won the 1991 and 1993 Assembly elections on a BJP ticket.

"The decision of the district administration is wrong because a tribunal court in Lucknow is hearing the matter. In January this year when the Shia Central Waqf Board raised the issue, I moved the court. I informed the district administration that the matter was pending in court, but they have already decided the issue," said Rajput.

Farrukhabad SP president Nadeem Fanoosque said Rajput joined the party in 1997, and was not holding any post.

Rajput had unsuccessfully contested the 2012 Assembly election on an SP ticket from Farrukhabad (Sadar).

Last year, the Raebareilly district administration had put up local MP and SP leader Azam Khan's name in the "land mafia" list over land grab charges.

He is accused of forcibly acquiring farmers' land for extension of Mohammad Ali Jahar University of which he is the founder and chancellor. He is lodged in Sitapur district jail.

Azam Khan's son Mohammad Abdullah Azam Khan, MLA from Sitpur, had claimed that land of 26 complainants were purchased in 2006 and payments were made through cheques.

LATHICHARGE ON SP PROTESTERS

Several members of Samajwadi Chhatra Sabha, the student wing of Samajwadi Party, were detained and lathicharged in Lucknow during a protest against the scheduled NEET-JEE exams amid the pandemic. Around 40-50 people were injured.

Party spokesman Rajendra Choudhury said, "Police lathicharged on peaceful protesters... The protesters were heading towards the Governor's House but were stopped near Gautam Pali police station. When they refused to call off the protest, police used force."

10-yr-old raped by minor

Mathura: A 10-year-old girl was allegedly raped by an adolescent in a village in Mathura district, police said on Monday. The girl had stepped out of her house on Saturday to buy some groceries from a nearby shop when she was waylaid by the boy and raped in a lonely place, they said.

The boy is also from the same village. An FIR has been lodged under IPC section 376 and the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act. The accused has been sent to juvenile custody, police said, adding that the girl underwent a medical examination. PTI

Couple, son killed and set on fire; police probe financial dispute angle

AMIL BHATNAGAR
NOIDA, AUGUST 31

A GROCERY store owner, his wife and son were strangled to death and set ablaze at their residence in a village in Agra late on Sunday night, police said.

Charred bodies of Ranveer (57), Meera (55) and Bablu (23) were recovered from Nagla Kishan Lal village in the district on Monday morning. Police suspect that the motive behind the crime was a financial dispute. No arrests have been made.

"Early morning, we received information from locals that there were three bodies inside a house. It appears that the crime took place sometime at night. There are two angles to the murders. The family borrowed money from a person and was unable to return it. The other aspect is a burglary gone wrong which, at this point, seems less likely," said Bablu Kumar, SSP Agra.

According to police, a retired armyman had given the victim's family Rs 12 lakh over a promise of a job. Ranveer ran a grocery shop in the Nagla area for more than a decade.

He ran his own business and was never seen indulging in arguments, locals told police. Ranveer and his family were last seen by neighbours returning to their house after 10 pm on Sunday.

The victim would open the shop at 5 am, but on Monday morning, no one was seen around it. His neighbours peeped inside the ground floor house and saw smoke billowing from one of the rooms.

Police broke open the door and found that the victims' hands were tied up and mouth taped. The bodies had burns on hands and legs and were kept next to each other. "The victims were strangled to death before they were set on fire," said Kumar.

Meera's brother Gabbar Singh said the family had no enmity with anyone. "It is the handwork of some criminals... I am not aware if they had any enmity. It is now the job of police to catch the accused," he said.
